

UNDERSTANDING YOUR ELECTRIC BILL

By Tim Holtan, CEO

August is typically one of the warmest months of the year, and that means air conditioners across our communities are working overtime to keep homes comfortable. During periods of extreme heat, many members may see an increase in their electric bill and wonder what factors contribute to the cost of electricity. At Riverland Energy Cooperative, we believe understanding your electric bill is an important part of being an informed member. While the total amount due may seem like a single number, it actually reflects several different costs associated with delivering reliable electricity to your home or business.

The largest variable factor is often the amount of energy you use. Electricity is measured in kilowatt-hours (kWh), and the more energy your household consumes, the higher your bill will be. During the summer, air conditioning and dehumidifiers are typically the largest drivers of increased energy use. When temperatures climb into the 90s or higher, cooling systems run longer and more frequently, consuming significantly more electricity than they do during milder weather.

In addition to the basic service charge and kWh charge, members will see a monthly demand charge based on their highest 15-minute period of electricity use during peak hours, which are 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. Riverland Energy Cooperative measures this in kilowatts, and the charge is $1.00 multiplied by that highest demand reading. This helps match costs more fairly because the electric system must be built and maintained to handle each member's highest demands, not just their total monthly energy use. Members can help lower demand by using major appliances one at a time or shifting some electric use to off-peak hours, from 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. when demand on the system is lower.

Detail of Charges
Basic Service Cost	30 days @ 1.38		41.40
KWH Charge	670 kWh @ 0.12177		81.59
Demand Charge 11/21/2025 11:45 10.048 kW @ 1.00			10.05
Total Electric Charges			133.04
Non-Taxable Facility			1.50
Total Current Charges			134.54
Balance Forward			0.00
Total Amount Due 12/31/2025			134.54

Your electric bill shows how the basic service cost, energy use (kWh charge), and demand charge each contribute to your monthly total.

Generation and transmission costs are major factors in the price of electricity. Riverland Energy Cooperative purchases power from Dairyland Power Cooperative, and those wholesale power costs can change with fuel prices such as natural gas, coal and other energy resources. Electricity also must move across high-voltage transmission lines before reaching local distribution systems, and maintaining and upgrading that equipment helps support reliable service as demand grows.

Closer to home, Riverland Energy Cooperative maintains the local electric distribution system—utility poles, power lines, transformers, substations and other essential equipment that safely delivers power to members. A portion of maintaining this equipment is covered through the monthly basic service charge. This is a monthly fee all members pay, regardless of how much electricity they use. This fixed fee ensures all members pay a fair share of the basic operational costs required to keep the power grid reliable and ready to serve your home or business. Whether a member uses a little electricity or a lot, we must maintain infrastructure and have crews, equipment and resources available to provide electricity around the clock.

The biggest factor you can control on your electric bill is how—and when—you use electricity.

Summer temperatures can also influence costs in less obvious ways. When the demand for electricity is high across a region, wholesale power prices can increase. Utilities and grid operators must ensure enough generation is available to meet peak demand, and those costs can be reflected throughout the electric system.

The good news is that simple steps to lower energy use can make a meaningful difference. Setting your thermostat a few degrees higher when you're away, replacing dirty HVAC filters, using ceiling fans, sealing air leaks and avoiding the use of major appliances during the hottest parts of the day can help reduce energy consumption, lower your bill and reduce strain on the local grid during peak demand.

Riverland Energy Cooperative's mission is to provide safe, reliable, innovative and affordable electricity while being transparent about the factors that impact energy costs. We understand every dollar matters, and we are committed to making smart investments that keep the lights on and support the communities we serve.

If you ever have questions about your electric bill or co-op programs designed to help you save, please reach out. We're here to help you make informed decisions that work for your household. Thank you for allowing Riverland Energy Cooperative to serve you.
